

ACCOUNTING (A.S.)+

CCV's Accounting program prepares you for entry-level positions in a variety of settings. It is a first step in a transfer pathway to a bachelor's degree in Accounting, Business, or Finance, and it provides foundational academic requirements for professional certifications such as CPA licensure. In addition to taking courses in accounting, you will gain a broader knowledge of the business environment by studying technology, communication, and business law. If you are interested in Vermont's licensing requirements for accounting, visit www.sec.state.vt.us/professional-regulation.aspx for more information.

All associate degrees include completion of general education requirements which, together with program requirements, constitute a minimum of 60 credits. In some cases program requirements also fulfill general education requirements. You may not use a single course to meet two general education requirements.

Program Outcomes

Graduates of the Accounting program will be able to:

- identify, explain, and apply generally accepted accounting principles and managerial concepts to specific accounting and reporting issues;
- demonstrate competency in computer skills, including computerized accounting systems and spreadsheet software;
- prepare accurate financial statements, schedules, and reports, and conduct appropriate analyses to determine financial impacts upon an organization;
- demonstrate academic skills required of all CCV graduates, including competency in writing, information literacy, oral communication, and quantitative reasoning; and
- explore pathways and demonstrate preparedness for educational and career development in the student's field of study.

The Accounting program is great for you if:

- you are currently working in or have interest in finance, public accounting, corporate accounting, or banking;
- you are interested in gaining an understanding of economic and accounting principles and practices, the financial markets, banking, and the analysis and reporting of financial data;
- you want to gain skills you can apply immediately in the workplace; and
- you may be interested in pursuing a bachelor's degree in this field.
